Dear Aunt Winniefred.

I am in receipt of your parcel which has just arrived by this mail, and thought I would write to you now, as I may not have time to-morrow. The mince pies were very nice, needless to say, of course, they are all gone by now, although I only got them half an hour ago. Thank Aunt Edith from me, for the toffee, it was very good of her to make it for me, and it is A. 1. I shall send a Post Card to Cecil, I had not forgotten him, it was the lack of post cards, I only had four, so I sent two to Uncle Jack's boys, who sent me some Xmas Cards, and two to Ronald and Horace, so tell Cecil that I shall send him one some.
