Tues. Aug. 18.

In train all day, stop for a few minutes at various places to water, the people giving me fruit & post cards all the way up.

Arrive at Hautmont in dark & eventually get to a very wet field with long grass, where we lie down.

Dear Sir

We thank you for your kind letter of sympathy. it has been a terrible blow to us Hubert was one of the best boys a parent ever had: always trying to lead a good life
we always felt so proud of him because

In Freedom's name he suffered,
For righteousness he died;
His not to see the victory,
And welcome it with pride,
To us he leaves the conflict;
Then let us faithful be;
With God as our Defender,
We soon shall triumph see.

Softly at night the stars are gleaming Upon that silent grave,
Where there lieth without dreaming,
The one we loved, but could not save,
But God will bind the broken chain Closer when we meet again.

"Until the Day dawns, and the shadows flee away."

Feb 21. Mrs D. Jones returned to duty. She had permission to go & see her husband. a wounded soldier in hospital at Birmingham.

Tomorrow we (teachers & myself) take about 40 children to Ninian Park Hospital and entertain the Wounded Soldiers for the third time since January. As formerly the children have brought money, cigarettes, eggs, etc. - this time we use all the money (13/-) for sweets - these are given out in the interval to the men. W

KEEP ON KNITTING.

Corporal-Bugler WILL J. LYDIARD, 6th Infantry Brigade, Australian Imperial Forces.

WE generally open each issue of the Roamer with a few words of advice or cheer to our lads who are out doing their bit for King and Country, but this time we want to say something to those at home. Our text is on the cover. Considering that on the first of the present month our Roath Road Regiment totals 350, it is not much to be wondered at that many of our boys are not only glad of knitted comforts, but that they are badly in need of them. And it is surely up to those of us at home to back up our "Roamers" in every possible way. Two thirds of them are or have been out facing the German guns for us, others are getting ready to go, or are keeping eternal vigil on the restless sea. Each of our dear lads who has so nobly fallen has fallen for us. Of the many who have been wounded, in every case, the wounds have been borne and bravely borne for us. Because of these "Roamers" and their gallant comrades in arms, we have been able to spend, certainly not a merry, but at least a safe and thankful Christmas. We surely owe them something in return. Owe them, why we owe them everything, and however long we live and strive we can never repay a tenth of that debt. But we can do our little bit to relieve their untold hardships, and to help to keep them warm and dry. Shall we? Socks are perhaps most wanted, but mittens, sleeping helmets, mufflers and jerseys are all very acceptable. We know our "Roamers," know each one of them personally and we make this appeal for them, that those at home who can knit, will knit, and that they will keep on knitting. That those who cannot knit will

Within the last 3 weeks a number of Jewish children have been admitted; they have left London owing to the frequent Air Raids from enemy aeroplanes.

27. 7. 16 We close School today for 4 weeks holiday.
Yesterday afternoon some of the children gave a little entertainment to the rest of the School to raise funds to relieve the starving Belgian children. Some parents came: admission 1 or more. 1d was the minimum charge; we made £2.8.9

Capturing a German Spy.

My friend & I were spending our holiday down at Bournemouth & one evening we were walking along the cliffs on the way home. We had a lovely view of the sea & the boats, but we could not see very far because it was getting dusk. We were hurrying along when suddenly we saw what looked like a man behind a bush on our left hand side. We stepped quietly on to the grass and slipped noiselessly behind another bush, very close to

We both felt very pleased to think that we had done something for our country in catching a German spy.
