

Message from the WNAA President

To All WNAA Members and Friends,

I wish everyone Blwyddyn Newydd Dda as we begin 2023. We have so much to be thankful for as we put last year behind us and start anew.

In retrospect, the WNAA certainly emerged from NAFOW 2022 in Philadelphia triumphantly. The festival in this beautiful, historic city was outstanding and we will cherish the memories.

*WNAA President
Jeanne Jones
Jindra*

But it is time to look ahead to the next North American Festival of Wales, and this issue of HWYL will give you an overview of what we have planned. We are headed to Lincoln, Nebraska, and I share the excitement of the entire Board of Trustees of the WNAA for this opportunity to hold the festival in the Midwest, in an area rich with Welsh history and culture. Lincoln is a lively city, as I found out on a trip there in mid-October for the pre-planning meeting. The Lincoln Marriott Cornhusker Hotel, our venue hotel, accommodates our needs very well, including a complementary airport shuttle service. Events outside the hotel are located within walking distance in this city with wide streets and expansive scenery.

We have planned an outstanding lineup of entertainers, concerts, seminar presenters, Cinema Wales, and other events that will make this weekend jam-packed with all things Welsh. We will again host a group of those talented young singers from the Urdd to perform and interact throughout the weekend. Musical composer Robat Arwyn will conduct the 91st Gymanfa in the sanctuary of the Saint Paul Methodist Church.

A highlight will definitely be the tour to Wymore, home of the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project and the Archive for Welsh America. The GPWHP is being honored with the NAWF's Heritage Medallion this year for the dedicated work they have done to collect, display and preserve Welsh artifacts. Included will be a stop at the Homestead National Historical Park, where you will learn about the lives and legends of the hardy Welsh pioneers who migrated to the prairies to build new lives.

The Monday overnight tour is a visit to Arvon, Kansas, spending time in this area where the imprint left by the Welsh settlers is still alive on the landscape today. After an overnight in Emporia, Kansas, the bus will return to the hotel on Tuesday.

Have I convinced you that you need to make plans now to join us in Lincoln this Labor Day weekend? Come a day or two early as we keep adding events to make sure we offer something for everyone. Remember "NAFOW 2023 Lincoln-There's a First Time for Everything!" Let's make this festival one we will be talking about for years to come!

Diolch yn fawr iawn! Thank you very much!

FYI from IHQ

WNAA Executive Secretary Megan Williams

Of all the places I thought I would visit in my life, I wasn't sure Nebraska would be on the list. I have now been there twice and I am so excited to bring so many from our Welsh community there for the festival. What a beautiful state and what a lineup we have put together!

Make sure to arrive early as we kick off events on Wednesday evening with an informal concert, food and beverage. We are delighted to introduce TRIANO, sisters Emily, Charlotte and Jessica, who join us from Ceredigion. The Urdd returns with four new faces to entertain crowds. Dylan Morris makes his first trip to the US and is part of our opening concert. Award-winning conductor and composer Robat Arwyn is the artistic director for the Grand Concert, featuring Rhys Meirion, Gwawr Edwards and Steffan Lloyd Owen. He will also conduct the 91st National Gymanfa Ganu on Sunday, September 3.

Our seminar schedule is full and we are excited to bring contemporary faces from Wales, including former National Poet Ifor ap Glyn and Assembly member Peredur Owen Griffiths. Theatre returns with festival favorite Owen Thomas who brings his latest piece, Carwyn. Full festival line-up can be found in the newsletter.

We are excited to start the weekend early to give everyone the opportunity to visit Wymore and the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Centre. The day tour includes a visit to the Homestead National Historical Park, a one room schoolhouse and Bethel Cemetery. Do not miss the opportunity to visit the Archives of Welsh America.

Registration opens early March but hotel reservations can be made now. Research flights into Lincoln and Omaha, consider taking the train, or driving; all roads lead to Lincoln! As always, please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions.

I hope to see you in Nebraska. You will not regret making the trip!

New WNAA Board Members

The WNAA welcomes four new board members.

Rev. Joseph G. Corbin retired after 41 years serving in church-related work and, as of 2020, 28 years as an ordained pastor. He now serves as a stated supply pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Weyauwega WI. Joe received his formal training at The University of Wisconsin, School of Music, where he studied vocal performance. He earned a B.A. in Music and a M. Div. degree from The University of Dubuque, Iowa. Joe is well-known for directing Cymanfaoedd Canu and St. David's Day festivities throughout Colorado, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. He has also helped lead many of the late-night informal sings at NAFOW gatherings.

Betty Cullingworth of Toronto, Ontario, claims Welsh parentage on both sides. She was christened at Dewi Sant Welsh United Church in Toronto and remained a life-long member until its closing. She is a member of the Board of the Ontario Gymanfa Ganu Association; conductor of Merched Dewi, the Welsh women's choir long associated with Dewi Sant; and sought-after conductor of cymanfaoedd in Canada and the USA. Betty has previous served on the WNAA Board.

Jack Williams is currently the President of the Welsh Society of Philadelphia and the past President of the Welsh Guild of Philadelphia. He also serves as the Music Director of the WSOP. He graduated as a conducting major from Temple University in Philadelphia. He was the Organist in 1976 for the US Bicentennial Gymanfa Ganu in Philadelphia. He previously served on the Board of the NAWF. He served as a senior executive in the US General Services Administration directing operations of an 800-person team providing business, acquisition, and logistical support to US civilian agencies and military bases worldwide, a $4 billion annual business. Concurrently he did advance work for three Presidents. He is the proud father of another Megan Williams born on March 13, 1981, and the proud grandfather of two beautiful granddaughters, Penelope and Jocelyn.

Stephen B. Glynn The first thing you need to know about me is that I'm a Cubs fan. There's something about faith and perseverance in that. I was born in Chicago about a mile from Wrigley Field which is my excuse. I grew up in the near-north suburbs of Chicago and was heavily involved in the instrumental and choral music programs in school. But I left the Midwest to go to sea. I am a 1980 graduate of the United States Coast Guard Academy, graduating with honors in History and English, and where I received my B.S. and commission as a Coast Guard officer. I served on an icebreaker (USCGC Westwind) in the Great Lakes and the Arctic Ocean, had a four year tour as the Coast Guard Liaison Officer to the Government of Liberia, participated in a number of missions around the world, and then was stationed in St. Louis as the Military Support and Disaster Response Planner for the Midwest until I left the service. For the past 28 years I've been the Director of Administration and Human Resources for Stephen Ministries St. Louis, a religious training and publishing organization serving thousands of churches around the world. My job includes a variety of responsibilities including teaching, writing (edited several books), managing the organization and negotiating hotel contracts for live events—which I understand was of special interest to the WNAA.

I currently live in southern Illinois, about five miles from the Mississippi River, on a creek that flows into the Mississippi with my two dogs Bronwyn and Angharad, although my work and most of my waking hours are spent across the river in Missouri. I keep busy in my spare time with my church (worship leader, praise team), my local American Legion post, and since my Academy days have been a member of both the Society for Nautical Research (Greenwich, U.K.), and the U. S. Naval Institute. I am the current President of the St. David's Society of Greater St. Louis, as well as a bass-baritone in Côr Cymry Gogledd America, and a promoter of Welsh music every chance I get. I've been to Wales on two occasions, and am excited to be returning this year with Côr Cymry, in preparation for which I've taken some Welsh language instruction from Lisa Hopkins, Hefina Phillips, and Dan Rowbotham. Whereas I have met many people with ties to Wales through the WNAA, I feel I am unique as I have no sure knowledge of my connection, although my last name and DNA point to my having some Welsh heritage. It seems my forebearers came to America in the 18th century, but why and from what area of Wales, I do not know at this time. But there must be something there as I feel the hiraeth whenever I sing some of those wonderful Welsh hymns.

NAFOW 2022 Wrapup

Everyone had an exceptionally wonderful time at NAFOW 2022 in Philadelphia last Labor Day Weekend.

As always, there are still some things to share from that great weekend before we turn our attention to NAFOW 2023.

Video of 2022 NAFOW

You may have noticed a video crew at NAFOW 2022 in Philadelphia. You can view their video on our website. Look for "Memories from Philadelphia PA 2022" on our home page; the video is below.

Recording of NAFOW 2022 Gymanfa Ganu

The recording of the 2022 Gymanfa Ganu is currently being edited and should be ready for purchase in spring 2023.

Welsh Dragon Cocktail

You, too, can make your very own Welsh Dragon Cocktail using this handy recipe. The bartenders in the hotel lounge in Philadelphia could barely keep up with the demand!

Recipe:

- 1/2 measure gin (if possible, Brecon gin)
- 1/2 measure vodka (if possible, Brecon vodka)
- 1/2 measure Triple Sec or Cointreau
- 2 measures cranberry juice
- 1 measure orange juice
- 2 dashes Grenadine
- Squeeze of fresh lime

Shake all the ingredients with ice. Pour into a medium glass. Decorate with slice of lime and a red cherry on a Welsh Dragon flag cocktail stick. To finish, squeeze some fresh lime juice over the drink.

2022 Eisteddfod Results

Winning Limerick

Sponsors: Alan and Greta Upshall

One of the highlights of the Eisteddfod is the Limerick competition. Two lead-in lines were provided to entrants at the start of the festival, so competitors did not have a great deal of time to compose their entries.

Entries were collected at Registration and adjudicators Alan Upshall and Ellis Jones narrowed the contenders down to the "finalist" entries.

The audience at the Noson Lawen listened to Alan recite them and their response was measured by an "applaud-o-meter" phone app which determined the prize winners. Thank you to Karen Wojahn, Alan Upshall and Ellis Jones who organized the competition. The Marketplace prizes were sponsored by Alan and Greta Upshall.

The 2022 award went to Myfanwy Davies of Ottawa, Canada. Here is her clever entry:

Ten Welshmen travelling to Spain,
To escape incessant Welsh rain,
They ate lots of food,
Sunbathed in the nude,
Then cried "Duw! Duw! I'm in pain!"

Second place winner was Laura Jones Gleamza of Geneva, Illinois, and third place winner was David Matthews of Alberta, Canada.

Visual Arts Competition

Sponsor: Welsh Gymanfa Ganu Association of Wisconsin

The third-ever Visual Arts competition, which started in Milwaukee in 2019, once again attracted some wonderful creations. This time, the requested theme was "Love/Cariad" in a nod to the famous Philly landmark sculpture just blocks away.

Ballots from the public were counted, and winning a first prize for the second time was Emily Small (Alexandria, VA) with "Gwydr Hyfryd," stained glass lovespoons made via the "copper foil" method; quite a nice variation on the tradition of using wood! Second prize went to local artist Keith Trievel (Royersford, PA) and "A Gentle Touch" (drawing/painting of a woman and wild pony in Tenby, Pembrokeshire) while third prize went to Joan Owen (Owego, NY) with a hand-knitted child's sweater and hat.

2022 Eisteddfod Stage Competitions

Welsh Language and English Language Recitation competitions returned with robust participation on both sides.

Welsh Language Recitation

Sponsor: WNAA Eisteddfod Committee

Welsh Language participants Buddug Jones, Jessica Davies, Gillian Hodkinson, Menna Holcombe, Nancy Wright, Eryl Davies

On the Welsh side, with “Nid Ffin” by Mike Jenkins as the set piece, Menna Holcombe (Hockessin, DE) took first place while a tie for second was declared between Jessica Davies (Pittsburgh, PA) and Gillian Hodkinson (Marco Island, FL).

English Language Recitation

Sponsor: St. David’s Society of Minnesota

English Language participants David Jones, Geraldine Parry and Nancy Wright

On the English side, the set piece was “On Clevedon Pier, June 2020” by Robert Walton. For reciting this impassioned but longer piece evoking the literal sight of Wales from the English side of the wide Severn estuary during the pandemic, Geraldine Parry (Bangor, PA) was awarded first prize, followed by Nancy Wright (New York, NY) in second and David Jones (Williamsburg, VA) in third.

Hymn Singing

Sponsor: Huw Christopher (Rachel Christopher Memorial Award)

Hymn singing participants Trevor Livezey, Stephen Glynn, John Owen, and Nancy Wright

In Hymn Singing, new WNAA Trustee Stephen Glynn (Columbia, IL) took first followed by John Owen (Nottingham, MD) in second and Nancy Wright in third. All performed in Welsh, and Stephen aptly performed a great version of “Aberystwyth” found in the “Caneuon Fydd” hymnal, repeating it the next day at the Sunday Worship Service. A special mention also goes out to young Trevor Livezey (Newtown Square, PA); he was a first-time performer in this competition and has also attained well-deserved recognition for conducting several hymns at our late-night singing... yes, just as he did in Rochester in 2017!

Many thanks to accompanist David Enlow.

Solo Voice/Semi-Professional

Sponsor: Ian K. Samways (Welsh North America Prize)

Solo Voice/Semi-Professional participants Deiniol McGovern, Amelia Gil-Figueroa, Nancy Wright

Our signature competition, Solo Voice/Semi-Professional for the Welsh North America Prize (a $3500 scholarship to travel to compete at next year’s National Eisteddfod of Wales) once again did not disappoint! NAFOW newcomer Deiniol McGovern (Long Valley, NJ) won the prize with excellent renditions of “Ar Hyd y Nos” and “When I was One-and-Twenty” (Moore/Houseman). Second prize went to another amazing newcomer, Amelia Gil-Figueroa (Vienna, VA) with “Yr Alarch” (E. Jones/Crwys) and “Lágrimas Mias” (Marqués/Zapata).

2022 Eisteddfod Adjudicators and Helpers

Many thanks to the Eisteddfod helpers and adjudicators.

Helpers: Gerri Baker Parry, Ellis Jones, David Matthews, Evans Paschal, Danny Proud, Alan Upshall, Greta Upshall, Megan Williams, Karen Wojahn

Recitation Adjudicators: Robert Dayton, Christine James, Dan Rowbotham

Singing Adjudicators: Katherine Crusi, Dafydd Jones, Edward Morus Jones, Karen Wojahn

Poetry Composition Adjudicators: Robert Dayton, Pat Edwards, Menna Elfyn, Eurig Salisbury

A Warm Welcome to Lincoln NE

As President of the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project and Archive for Welsh America, and on behalf of the Arvonnia Historic Preservation Society, I welcome you to gather with us over Labor Day weekend in Lincoln, Nebraska for the 2023 North American Festival of Wales.

This is the first time in NAFOW's history that this annual celebration of Welsh culture takes place in Lincoln. The event headquarters is the Lincoln Marriott Cornhusker Hotel located in downtown Lincoln. Many local restaurants and shops are within walking distance.

Our Gymanfa Ganu will be held in Saint Paul United Methodist Church, directly across the street from the Cornhusker. Our leader for the hymn sing is renowned Welsh conductor and composer Robat Arwyn.

Also joining us is Ifor ap Glyn, National Poet of Wales 2016-2022. In addition, we are very excited that Welsh Nebraskan and broadcasting legend Dick Cavett will host a seminar via Zoom to share his insights and recount his interviews with famous celebrities—some Welsh!

Also on the agenda is a day trip to Wymore, Nebraska on Thursday, August 31, to visit the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project and Archive for Welsh America. We will also tour Wymore's historic one-room school attended by many Welsh immigrant children, and Bethel Cemetery in the settlement where the Welsh purchased land in the late 1800's. We will serve a traditional miner's lunch complete with pasties and Welsh cakes.

On Monday, September 4, an overnight excursion heads to historic Arvonnia, Kansas, where Susan Evans Atchison has lovingly restored the remaining buildings of the Welsh settlement.

Lincoln is easily accessible by air, road and Amtrak, and is centrally located within a day's travel of most of the US and Canada. In addition to the events above, we are planning many unique experiences including Native American dancers, a Celtic band and of course, an exhibit complete with Welsh Corgis.

Bronwen Colgrove hopes that everyone will come to Lincoln, Nebraska this year. It will be "ruff" without you!

See you in Nebraska, home of "the Good Life."
Gwenith Closs-Colgrove, President
Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project

NAFOW 2023 Wednesday Open Air Event

Plan to arrive in Lincoln, Nebraska on Wednesday and take in a special event.

We have permission to close the street in front of the hotel and hold an open-air Welsh fair. A stage will be set up and the hotel will provide food for sale.

Plans are still under way, but we will offer local entertainment in addition to a taste of what's to come from our Welsh musicians; Welsh food and other fare; and possibly vendors from our Welsh marketplace.

Check the website later in the year as plans unfold.

Many Moccasins is one of the featured local groups.

2023 Thursday Events in Lincoln

Those who take the Thursday tour to Wymore will be back in time for the Lincoln events later in the day.

Thursday Afternoon

Representatives from the Nebraska state government are very happy to welcome NAFOW to Lincoln. On Thursday afternoon at 4:00 p.m., there will be a short program in the rotunda in the state capitol building a few blocks from the hotel.

After the ceremony, the Welsh flag will be raised outside.

Thursday Evening Opening Concert

Officially, NAFOW festivities kick off with the Opening Concert. Dylan Morris and members of the Urdd group are scheduled to perform. Dylan's biography is on page 11 of this issue of HWYL.

2023 Nebraska Welsh Heritage Tour

Our Thursday tour takes visitors south of Lincoln. We will visit the Homestead National Historical Park in Beatrice, a museum which commemorates the passage of the 1862 Homestead Act.

One hour south of Lincoln is Wymore, home of the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Centre. Known today as the “Welsh Capital of the Great Plains,” Wymore was home to a significant Welsh community. We will have lunch at the Welsh Heritage Centre, which contains a museum of Welsh immigrant life and the Archive for Welsh America.

The tornado-proof archive is the only repository in North America for the Welsh-language newspaper, Y Drych, which dates back to 1851.

Following the museum visit, we will tour the restored one-room Pleasant View Schoolhouse, once attended by many Welsh-American children.

Finally, at Bethel Cemetery, we will be greeted by relatives of those buried there. It is the final resting place of many of the original Welsh settlers and site of the former Calvinistic Methodist Church, the community’s largest Welsh church.

2023 Kansas Welsh Heritage Tour

Join us for an overnight round trip tour to learn how the Welsh helped settle Kansas. Our coach bus will leave Lincoln, Nebraska on Monday morning and travel southwest through Manhattan, KS to enjoy the scenic Flint Hills before arriving in Arvonia KS overlooking Melvern Lake.

Enjoy lunch at the Township hall and learn about the Welsh who settled Arvonia. Our group will tour the restored Arvonia School and Calvinist Methodist Church, where we will sing a hymn or two to honor those Welsh pioneers. Those with limited mobility will have the use of a golf cart.

After leaving Arvonia, we will travel to Emporia KS and check into our hotel. We will enjoy a catered dinner at the Lyon County History Center, and have time to peruse their display of Welsh artifacts.

After a restful overnight stay, we’ll enjoy a visit to Howe House and Welsh Farmstead for a breakfast of Welsh teacakes, scones and more, and a tour of the house.

Time permitting, we will stop at the Osage County Museum.

We will have lunch on our way back to Lincoln NE and arrive at the Marriott Cornhusker hotel late on Tuesday afternoon.

New WNAA Registration Software

We have recently acquired new integrated software to assist with WNAA membership maintenance, mailing and email lists, donations, NAFOW registration and much more. Data from existing sources has been imported into the system. This software will be linked to the website and ready for NAFOW 2023 signup in March.

This software will make data maintenance, on-site NAFOW registration, payments, and reporting easier.

2023 Friday Evening NAWF Banquet

The 17th Annual NAWF Heritage Medallion Award dinner will be held in the Ballroom in the Lincoln Marriott Cornhusker Hotel.

Welsh soprano Lisa Dafydd is the evening's entertainment. Ms. Dafydd is the 2022 recipient of the Osborne Roberts Blue Riband Memorial Award at the National Eisteddfod in Wales. At the Eisteddfod, she was also awarded the Violet Mary Lewis Scholarship for the most promising soprano.

Her current performances include the lead role of Siwan in the world premiere of Gelert, an opera by Paul Mealer. Recent performances include an evening of opera scenes with the Royal Academy Opera as Dalinda in Ariodante by George Frideric Handel, and Second Niece in Peter Grimes by Benjamin Britten.

Upcoming projects include the role of Norina in Donizetti's Don Pasquale for an evening of opera scenes at the Royal Academy, and as soloist with the London Sinfonietta performing Fields of Sorrow by Harrison Birtwistle at the Queen Elizabeth Hall.

Ms. Dafydd was born in Ruthin, north Wales, and moved to Manchester to earn her undergraduate degree in Vocal Studies at the Royal Northern College of Music. Currently she is earning her master's degree at the Royal Academy of Music.

North America Wales Foundation

Established in 1980, the North America Wales Foundation was the initiative of several individuals, inspired by the late Jack K. Evans, a native of Wales. The Foundation has a commitment to preserve, share and promote the common culture and traditions of Wales and North America.

The NAWF has distributed hundreds of thousands of dollars in awards over the years and runs an annual scholarship and grant program.

Its highest honor, the Heritage Medallion, is awarded to individuals or organizations distinguished by their contributions to North American Welsh life.

Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project Receives 2023 Medallion

The Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project (GPWHP) is the 2023 recipient of the NAWF Heritage Medallion. In the past, three GPWHP leaders have also been recognized by the NAWF: Berwyn Jones and Martha Davies in 2010, and AdaMae Lewis in 2015.

The GPWHP was started in Wymore, Nebraska in 2000 by Julie Everson, Elaine Mick and Lori McAlister. With the support of Wymore's mayor and the local community, it became a place to celebrate Welsh heritage.

Currently, the GPWHP is overseen by a board and an advisory group, both of which meet regularly. This project oversees the Welsh Heritage Centre and oversees the Archive for Welsh America. Recent production of the film, Pobl y

Paith, People of the Prairie: the Welsh in Nebraska, celebrates 150 years of Nebraska's statehood by telling the story of its Welsh immigrants.

Experience the project for yourself! Plans for NAFOW 2023 include a tour to Wymore to the museum and other local sites.

"Carwyn" One-Man Show Featured at NAFOW 2023

'Carwyn' is a brand-new one-man show starring Simon Nehan that attempts to unravel the enigma of a multi-layered man. A man ahead of his time. A man who was alone in a crowd. A man uncomfortable in his own skin. A man of whom it is said very few truly knew him, knew what made his heart beat and his mind tick. In his 53 years Carwyn James made an incredible, indelible impact on the country of his birth. A man who adored sport, culture and politics, a man who adored Wales. A man of contradictions, with a career that took in teaching, broadcasting, coaching, and espionage.

Throughout his life the beauty of the words of the ancient poets and playwrights were as important to him as the ebb and flow of the rugby ball. A man whose crowning achievement was delivering, to this day, the only Series victory against New Zealand for the British and Irish Lions in 1971.

Carwyn James died alone in an Amsterdam hotel room in January 1983. This play returns to this room and allows this unique man to have one final opportunity to look back over his short but eventful life. Carwyn James deserves to have his story told on stage. Writer Owen Thomas and Director Gareth John Bale, the writer and star of 'Grav', will remind Wales of one of her lost sons who contributed enormously to our sporting, cultural, political and intellectual life.

Biographies of the artists are on the following page.

During lockdown he wrote a series of radio plays for RCT Theatres and ‘Isolationship’, an online play as part of ‘Bale and Thomas’. He also wrote ‘Who Runs Towards a Fire’ and ‘Peerless’ for the Sherman Theatre, Cardiff, and was commissioned to write a film, ‘When the Night Fell’, for Theatr Brycheiniog.

His first screenplay was for the film version of ‘Grav’ for S4C. Directed by Marc Evans (Director: The Pembrokeshire Murders – ITV1) the film was screened nationally on September 12th, 2021, to critical acclaim. The film was nominated for Best Film in the 2022 Celtic Media Awards. Owen was nominated as Best Writer at the BAFTA Cymru Awards where ‘Grav’ won the BAFTA Cymru Award for Best Film.

Owen has recently been named the inaugural English language Writer in Residence for the Brecon Beacons National Park and his new play written in response will premiere at the Hay Festival in 2023.

Saint Paul United Methodist Church

The 91st Gymanfa Ganu sessions will be conveniently held across the street from the hotel at Saint Paul United Methodist Church. This sanctuary was made for a gymanfa ganu! According to their website:

“Saint Paul United Methodist Church has served the Lincoln community from the heart of the city for over 140 years. The present sanctuary building was built in 1901. It was designed by architects Burton, Brown, and Davis of Cincinnati, Ohio and built by Olson Construction Company. The plan was modeled on a common design for the period called the “Akron Plan” with the sanctuary oriented around 45-degree axis. The current Saint Paul United Methodist Church building was dedicated on November 17, 1901.

Our beautiful stained glass windows were installed shortly after the dedication in February 1902. They are based on paintings by Bernhard Plockhorst and are referred to as the “Christmas” and “Easter” windows. The 29’ x 43’ windows have survived years of high winds, hail storms, frigid winters, blistering summers and even the implosion of a neighboring hotel.”

Further: “The McKinley bells have been ringing over Downtown Lincoln for a century. While the church was being built, President McKinley was assassinated on September 14, 1901. The citizens of Lincoln, led by Mayor J.H. Winnet, raised sufficient funds to buy the set of ten bronze bells, now located in Saint Paul’s belfry. The chime originally belonged to the McKinley Memorial Association and was loaned to Saint Paul for safe-keeping. The ten bells weigh almost four tons. The chime was dedicated on June 1, 1902. The inscription on the big bell reads “Presented by the citizens of Lincoln and vicinity in memory of our beloved President.”” Read more about the church and its ministry at: saintpaulumc.org

Talented Musicians for NAFOW 2023

Dylan Morris was born and raised in Pwllheli on the Llyn Peninsula in North Wales where he now lives with his wife Sera and their children – Tomos (16), Aron (12) and Cari (9). Having studied Information Technology, Dylan has worked for a Chartered Accountant firm for the last 25 years as an IT Manager, in marketing and as an Admin Manager.

Dylan has always had a love for music, with his parents and grandparents sharing music with him throughout his childhood, drawing inspiration from many including Elvis and a variety of Welsh artists from Dafydd Iwan to Bryn Fon.

Apart from the odd karaoke performance on a night out, it was performing at a regular monthly open mic night in 2019 that really highlighted his love for performing in a more formal setting. The Pandemic quickly ended the opportunity to perform in person and the Cŵr-ona facebook page gave Dylan a new platform to continue singing and share his music with thousands of people online. He quickly became a singing sensation. This support led to opportunities to pursue his dream of performing, recording, and to work alongside musicians he had admired for so long, including Arfon Wyn, who has been extremely supportive of Dylan's new musical career.

In October 2020 Dylan released his first EP, 'Haul Ar Fryn', with the recording company Sain. Featuring five Welsh songs, four of which are brand new, the title track, Haul Ar Fryn, is being played regularly by radio stations including Radio Cymru. In October 2021 Dylan followed this by releasing his first album, 'Da Ni Ar Yr Un Lôn', featuring nine Welsh songs and two English songs. The album was a trigger for Dylan to write lyrics for the first time and also features duets with both his daughter, Cari, and his sister, Sian. He now performs regularly in pubs and clubs around the North Wales area and has appeared three times on the S4C show Noson Lawen.

Dylan will perform at the Opening Concert at the 2023 festival in Lincoln, Nebraska. He is looking forward to traveling to the States and to learning more about Welsh North American history.

"Hiraeth Is Good For You" presents a new reading of Welsh hiraeth as both an acute awareness of the presence of absence and an impulse to fill the absences in our lives with creative invention. It draws on my new book, The Long Field, to look at the hiraeth we experience as individuals as well as the national hiraeth stories of Wales, and sites hiraeth as the genius of Welsh culture--indeed, the wellspring of creativity itself.

Robert Humphries is a native of Wales and a second-language Welsh speaker. He holds an MA in Celtic Studies from the University of Wales, Trinity Saint David, and is a board member of the Great Plains Welsh Heritage Project in Wymore, Nebraska. The Welsh Experience on The Great Plains and Beyond While relatively small in number, the Welsh created thriving ethnic communities and left their mark on the history of the Great Plains region. Digging into the primary sources, this seminar reveals the lives of these Welsh settlers, including their reasons for going west, the challenges they faced, and their encounters with other ethnic groups and Native Americans.

From Wales to the Heart of America: The Journey of John Evans In 1792, Welshman John Evans set off on a remarkable journey to the very center of North America, in search of legendary "Welsh Indians," joining forces with a Scotsman named James Mackay to explore the upper reaches of the Missouri River. Some VERY Interesting "Lords of Llaneluad" Anglesey Ever wonder what a turncoat, "golden peacock" of Penrhyn, Beaumaris Bulkeley empire founder, ghost on horseback, Barbados sugar plantation owner, "Mad" Tom Hervey, Copper Kings of Parys Mountain, and Williams of Bodelwyddan have in common? All owners of thousands of acres in North Wales, their stories never fail to amuse and to educate.

Ifor ap Glyn was raised in a Welsh -speaking family in London and studied the language at the University of Wales, Cardiff.

He has published ten books, including a history of the Welsh language in 50 short chapters. He has produced and presented a documentary for the BBC on the life and work of Hedd Wyn; he edited a collection of poems commemorating his life; and he was also responsible for producing the interpretative films for the permanent exhibition at Yr Ysgwrn when it was refurbished in 2017.

A history of the Welsh language in ten words Based on a popular radio series that ran for three years on Welsh national radio, poet and presenter Ifor ap Glyn will offer a fascinating analysis of how Welsh works, what languages have we borrowed from, and why do we mutate?! No prior knowledge of the language necessary.

Hedd Wyn (1887-1917) and the Black Chair Despite having little formal education, this talented young poet achieved his lifelong ambition in 1917 of winning the chair at the National Eisteddfod - but tragically he never knew, as he'd been killed in battle in Belgium a few weeks before. In Wales, he became a symbol for all the lost talent of that generation, and his home at Yr Ysgwrn is a place of pilgrimage to this day. It's a great story (Hedd Wyn's biopic was the first Welsh language film to be nominated for an Oscar) and poet and broadcaster Ifor ap Glyn will bring it to life once more at NAFOW.

Welsh Society of the Southern Tier

Submitted by Diane Jeffer The Welsh Society of the Southern Tier was founded in 1977 by Jack Watkins and Joan Phelps and many members of the St. David's Society of Binghamton (New York) which had ceased to function several years earlier. In the 1980s, members of the Society participated in annual ceremonies raising the Welsh flag at City Hall in Binghamton on St. David's Day. A Gymanfa Ganu attended by as many as 600 people was held for many years and in 1984 the 75-member male choir from Rhosllanerchrugog, Wales was home-hosted by the Society when they included Binghamton on their first North American tour. A choir from Dolgellau was also home-hosted twenty years later.

In recent years, the Society has held quarterly meetings with a variety of programs for its 30+ paid members. A St. David's Day celebration dinner is planned for March 5, 2023 at The Cellar restaurant in Owego, with a musical program featuring local harpist Melissa Collins. In June, members will again participate in the annual Strawberry Festival in Owego, New York. We will set up a booth and sell Welsh cakes and scones.
