

Message from the WNAA President

WNAA President
David Matthews

Dear Members and Friends of the Welsh North American Association

The last eighteen months or so have been a rollercoaster of a ride and not a pleasant one. Many people have, firsthand, experienced the impact of Covid on their health, while we all experienced restrictions that, in many ways, have reshaped our lives. NAFOW Philadelphia 2020 was cancelled and more recently NAFOW Ottawa 2021 was cancelled because of the restrictions that Covid put on our free movement and gatherings.

The WNAA boards have met on a regular basis through the medium of Zoom and through each meeting has ridden that same rollercoaster of disappointment and hope. BUT THE NEWS IS GOOD! With the concerted effort and hard work of our board, a NAFOW 2021 will take place this September in Utica, New York. Read all about it in this issue of HWYL.

This will be an extraordinary gathering as we all have missed, so much, the camaraderie, the harmony, the celebration of the Welshness that exists within each of us. It will be an opportunity to renew and strengthen our friendships, join in wonderful hymn singing, learn from each other and guest speakers, and ‘partake’ in those informal as well as the more formal gems of gatherings that will take place throughout the festival.

It would be, as ever, unfair to pinpoint individuals who have worked hard, so hard, over the last eighteen months, so I will say simply, Megan and team. But I will take this opportunity to point out our thanks to Myfanwy Davies and team for the work they did in Ottawa in the hopes of putting on NAFOW Ottawa. I would also like to thank the St. David’s Society of Utica and the Remsen-Steuben Historical Society and Ted Engle for embracing our move to hold NAFOW in Utica.

While we forge ahead with hope in our hearts, let us for a moment remember the people who have left us; our friends who lent service, knowledge and strength to our organization - David Llewelyn Williams, Rachel Christopher, Sue Richards and Berwyn Jones. They will be sorely missed.

Looking forward to seeing you in September! My wife, Mona and I plan to drive the 4000 km or so from Calgary to Utica to celebrate this festive ‘reunion’ with you!

Diolch I chi gyd! Thanks to you all!
Hwyl! David

2021 Grand Concert at North American Festival of Wales in Utica, New York

The Grand Concert for the 2021 North American Festival of Wales in Utica, New York, "Related by Song: Celebrating the Welsh Love of Music," will be held at the stunning Stanley Theatre. We are pleased to announce the artistic lineup for this year's event.

Catrin Davies

Catrin Davies, our Artistic Director, has spent the past twenty years immersed in the world of opera as an administrator, singer, director, producer, and consultant, teaching and directing at Towson University, the Road Scholar, and primarily at the Peabody Conservatory. Currently, she is the resident director at Summer Garden Opera, and Artistic Director of the Young Victorian Theatre Company.

Ms. Davies specializes in Welsh repertoire, and won the mezzo-soprano competition at the National Eisteddfod in Wales in 2012. She is also a three-time first-prize winner at the North American Festival of Wales.

Following her victory at the National Eisteddfod, Ms. Davies was invited to perform with the Three Welsh Tenors. In addition, she is a frequent soloist with Welsh choirs, and has performed with them at the Smithsonian, in Stratford (Canada) and Philadelphia, and in Wales. Among other venues, she has brought her recital of Welsh song to the Engineers Club, Baltimore, the Cosmos Club, Washington, DC, and the Academy of Art Museum, Easton.

Nerys Jones

A native Welsh speaker, Nerys Jones was born and educated in Llanfair, Caereinion, mid Wales, and was an avid Eisteddfod competitor from a young age. She was one of the founding members of Cwmni Theater Maldwyn in its first production of Y Mab Darogan, which played a pivotal role in her desire to pursue her musical career.

Nerys gained huge success during her time at English National Opera (ENO) in London, perfecting her talent for playing 'pants roles.' Her roles at ENO included Hansel, Cherubino, Despina, Garcias, Zerlina, Mercedes, Kitchen Boy, Flower Maiden, 2nd Lady, Proserpina, Flora, Melissa, Sister Mathilde and Pitti Sing. Roles at other opera companies include Rosina in The Barber of Seville; Dorabella in Così fan tutte; Dryad in Ariadne auf Naxos; Stewardess in Flight; and Angelina in La Cenerentola. She performed with the Scottish Chamber Orchestra, Scottish Early Music Consort and the National Youth Orchestra of Wales.

Since moving to Seattle, Nerys has worked with the Seattle Opera, Tacoma Opera, Vashon Opera, Pacific Northwest Ballet, Seattle Chamber Society, Northwest Philharmonia, Northwest Sinfonietta, and OSSCC. She made her 2019 Seattle Opera debut as Inez in Il trovatore and returned to sing Giovanna in Rigoletto. Recent roles include Female Chorus in The Rape of Lucretia and Marcellina in The Marriage of Figaro at Tacoma Opera. Upcoming performances are with Vashon Opera and the OSSCC along with recitals and choral works. Seattle has been home for 16 years but she regularly visits her family in Wales.

Todd Thomas

American baritone Todd Thomas is recognized with operatic companies and critics alike as one of the true Verdi baritones currently gracing stages today. Todd, originally from Elmira, New York makes his home in Philadelphia, PA with his wife of 26 years, Lisa Helmel Thomas. He earned a Bachelor of Music degree in Vocal Performance and a Master of Music degree in Opera Theatre from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. His parents emigrated from Merthyr Tydfil and settled in Wellsboro, PA. Todd's love of music has been constant, with his earliest memories of family raising their voices in song on Saturday night after dinner.

Mr. Thomas encourages young singers to find a connection with their endowed musical gifts as a guest master teacher and clinician. In addition to his active singing career, in 2013 he formed the Todd Thomas Music Scholarship which awards cash prizes to deserving graduating high school seniors from Chemung County, PA, embarking on their college careers in the full time study of music-based curriculum.

Recently as Macbeth, Opera News depicted his performance as "warm and centered in his tone with subtle phrasing that emphasized the introspective, almost poetic quality of the tormented king." Of a recent Falstaff performance, Opera News said, "Thomas's forthright vocalism (featuring wonderful top notes) and apt physique give him a leg up in this part, but he also captured the generous, earthy spirit of Shakespeare's creation, giving the evening its comic and emotional fulcrum...it's hard to imagine there are many better Falstaffs working on North American stages today."

Jenny Oaks Baker is a Grammy-nominated, Billboard No. 1 violinist with 18 albums to her credit. She and her four children, musical group Family Four, have performed with U.S. orchestras including the Utah Symphony, Millennial Choirs and Orchestras and Tabernacle Choir & Orchestra at Temple Square, and in concert halls around the world. Their debut album, entitled "Jenny Oaks Baker & Family Four" hit #4 on the Billboard Charts. Their new Christmas album, Joy to the World debuted at #7 on the Billboard Charts.

Laura, 19, plays violin. Hannah, 18, plays the piano. Sarah, 16, plays the cello. Matthew, 14, plays the classical guitar. They have performed together since each child started playing their instruments when they were three or four years old.

Their husband and father Matt Baker is a business executive and is incredibly supportive of his wife and children.

Westminster Presbyterian Church, Utica, New York

This year we have hit a home run for our Gymanfa Ganu and church service venue. The Westminster Presbyterian Church or, more accurately, the Westminster Moriah Olivet Church, is excited to host us on Sunday, September 5. They are no strangers to Welsh music, as the “Moriah” in the long name is the original Welsh congregation founded in 1820 by Calvinist Methodists.

The neo-gothic worship space contains seven Tiffany stained glass windows, and the communion table is inscribed with the Welsh words “Er Cof Am Danaf” meaning “In Memory of Me.”

The church is fully accessible. There is a parking lot and entrance at the rear of the church. An elevator brings attendees to the sanctuary level. Two sets of rest rooms are on the sanctuary level and, at the time of our event, there will be plenty of volunteers on hand to guide us.

At the June visit by the WNAA board, member Karen Wojahn received a quick orientation on the pipe organ from Richard Crawley, the church Director of Music, who is also on the faculty at Syracuse University.

Thanks to the miracles of modern technology, Karen was able to communicate with Steve Jensen and answer any of his questions about the organ.

Join Jan Jones Batty for a lighthearted look into Sharing Tips for Researching Your Relatives in Wales. Jan is an amateur genealogist with several years' experience researching her ancestors in Wales. She has discovered a few research tips unique to the Welsh genealogy experience. During this session, we will follow Jan's guidance and share our own tips for discovering our Welsh heritage. There will be no whining about an excess of Joneses (Jan has cornered the market on that) and no discussions of DNA testing or family specifics. We will make time for brainstorming and sharing resources related to Welsh genealogical research.

Be sure to check the schedule for the Say Something in Welsh get-together.

Welsh Society of Western New England

A Wine and Welsh Cheese Event

Submitted by Susan Davies Sit

The Welsh Society of Western New England (WSWNE) covers western New England and was founded as a branch of an earlier southern Connecticut Welsh society. During non-COVID times, it meets twice a year.

Its St. David's Day Luncheon in early March welcomes about 50 attendees and includes a presenter/speaker, a merchandise table, and a large map of Wales with everyone's roots pinned. Two members come in Welsh national dress. The Christmas Luncheon also attracts about 50 people, and the day's events include a presenter and music, merchandise table, and the observance of Christmas traditions and decorations.

Board Members Ed Brown and Beth Roberts Brown in traditional dress for St. David's Day

During each Welsh genealogy workshop, which meets for 90 minutes twice a month via ZOOM, members teach, research, and help each other. When in-person gatherings were allowed, it met once a month for a full day. It is expected that the Zoom Genealogy meetings will continue after things are back to normal.

The Welsh conversation group includes all levels of Welsh learner and is not a class. It meets weekly via ZOOM. Questions in Welsh are presented for homework, and members answer them together every Tuesday evening. Pre-pandemic, the conversation group met in a cafe once a month.

When in-person gatherings are allowed, the WSWNE hosts New England's WalesWeek/NewEngland with support from Wales and London. To learn more about this event: find it on Twitter: @WalesWeek or on the WSWNE website.

Usually there are about fifteen cultural events around New England in VT, MA, CT and RI, with the numbers growing every year. WSWNE participation in these events publicizes its connection to Wales as well as business opportunities and travel to Wales.

Once a year, it hosts a Noson Lawen to honor Owain Glyndwr - via ZOOM this year! A Noson Lawen was held in September 2020 and January 2021. Both are international, as performers from Canada and Wales join in. It has been highly successful. Welsh cake baking demonstrations are always popular.

Early in 2020 membership included 58 families, but this has expanded to 70 member families throughout the United States due to the online conversation and genealogy groups.

Officers are: Susan Davies Sit (President), Susan Jenkins Meers & Annie Rodgers (Co-Vice Presidents), Mary Jones Pallos (Secretary) and Mark Taylor (Treasurer).

Welsh Society of Wellington, New Zealand

Information provided by Bob Bevan Smith, Secretary

The Welsh Society of Wellington was formed in 1907 by a wharf worker at Wellington harbour who met Welsh folk off visiting ships. Currently we have about 30 members in the Wellington region.

Major activities of the society have always centred on St. David's Day, but in the past we have taken part in Wellington City parades, such as Santa parades, visiting Welsh Rugby teams etc.; and also going to see visiting Welsh performers such as Bryn Terfel, Harry Secombe and others. We occasionally have outings to local places or events of interest, such as a day trip by ferry to the local Somes Island.

Also, we have in the recent past had a singing group which performed at annual carol festivals. We are currently planning a show about the 'Mari Lwyd.'

We don't have regular meetings as such, but there is an informal coffee circle who meet monthly for gossip etc., and we normally meet for Christmas and other significant occasions such as birthdays. Many of our members also attend the Welsh Gymanfa Ganu Association of New Zealand biennial events, which are hosted by a group of New Zealand cities in rotation, last hosted in Wellington nearly a decade ago.

We also have an Annual General Meeting, which we will hold on 1st May this year. The current President is Margot Griffith, from Ferryside, Carmarthen. Bob Bevan Smith is currently the society's Secretary.

Annually, we have three competitions: one for Poetry, another for a short Story, for both of which we have a silver cup on which the winner's name is engraved, and an Arts & Craft competition for which there is a wooden shield, to which small nameplates of winners are attached. In addition, there is a light-hearted competition in which members bring a plate of six Welsh Cakes, and someone (frequently me, if I can wangle it) is asked to taste and judge them.

We have a website <https://nzwelsh.wordpress.com> which also features other Welsh societies in NZ. Our email address is welsh.wellington@gmail.com.

Staying Welsh During the Pandemic

What have you been doing “Welsh-wise” during these many months staying at home?

Member Nancy Jones Miller and her husband Clarence adopted a Welsh terrier, Cariad, known as “Cari.” Cari is currently learning how to be a good girl and not chew everything in sight.

Apparently Jan Jones Batty (coincidentally Nancy’s cousin) has been playing too much Words With Friends. When she started a new “quick game” against the software, “HYWL” was the word that the game suggested. Who knew Welsh was part of the game’s vocabulary? A week or so later, her husband Bob found that “CROESO” was an accepted word.

Huw Christopher has found that staying connected has helped him stay Welsh. “Staying Welsh during the pandemic -- I cannot name all of the ways -- from the virtual NAFOW, to local society connections, to WNAA Board meetings, to choir gatherings on Zoom and YouTube. Thanks to the use of technology and the creativity of so many talented people I have had more opportunities to get my “Welsh fix” during the pandemic than before. I hope all of these ways do not suddenly disappear as we try to do everything in person once again. Hybrids are not just good for automobiles. They are good for Welsh connections as well!”

Above: Nancy and Cari at home
Below: Jeanne’s virtual Welsh class

Jeanne Jones Jindra spent Tuesday afternoons in Virtual Welsh Language classes with Dan Rowbotham from Llangeitho. “A great way to meet people from all over who share an interest in learning the language. Dan kept us laughing and at the end of the session, everyone demanded he start another one!”

 Myfanwy Davies and her husband dearly miss their visits to a local pub that aired rugby games. But she found a “workaround!” Myfanwy reports “I subscribed to DAZN, an online sports site so I could watch the Six Nations Championship, which Wales won.”

Evans Paschal reports that “I’ve managed to keep up my nightly lessons in Welsh on Duolingo during the pandemic without missing a day. As other Welsh students of Duolingo will know, pannas (Cymraeg for “parsnips”) are by far the most popular vegetable and feature frequently in the lessons. People cook pannas, eat pannas, buy and sell pannas, and work happily on farms that grow pannas. Because I often mention to my wife the occurrence of pannas in the lessons, she too has learned the Welsh word pannas. The strange thing is we now seem to be eating more pannas ourselves.”

Finally, and probably the most challenging activity, is Gwenith Closs Colgrove’s attempt to teach her Welsh Corgi to sing in Welsh. The first photo is Gwenith teaching Bronwen how to sing her favorite hymn “Calon Lan.” Bronwen is a Pembroke Welsh Corgi and is 2 ½ years old. She came to the Colgrove household from a ranch in South Dakota. The second picture is captioned “I can’t believe all those double ll’s and double dd’s. I am dog-tired!!!”
